General Comment

I definitely agree the proposal for comprehensive safety measures for mine workers. Lately, there have been several accidents, such as the most recent in Chile, where mineworkers are trapped. Mine workers are entitled to have safety and health programs as several other employees in city, state and federal positions have. All mineworkers and supervisors should be scrutinized to ensure they are within compliance with the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act. Safety is extremely important in all employment positions, especially if employees risk their lives for their employment.
