APR 10 2017

To Whom It May Concern: MSHA Rulemaking,

Please delay the proposed workplace exams rule and consider the following issues:

1. The status of the rule is not clear. MSHA indicated that there was a "pause" in the rule so that the rule could be reviewed at a policy level, but that review is not yet complete. The Trump administration has also yet to appoint an Assistant Secretary to administer MSHA.
2. Once the rule is in effect, aggregates operations will require compliance assistance from MSHA.
3. The rule is still vague on what constitutes a working place, conditions that may adversely affect safety and prompt notification.
4. The rule should be delayed indefinitely until it's status is finalized.

Please include me on any correspondence on the proposed rule moving forward.

Sincerely,

DAN COX
