General Comment

Any and all regulations enacted during the Obama Administration were designed to destroy all of the industries they were directed at and increase the dominance of the Federal Government over all industries. This is called Communism. Too many of Obama's minions are still working for the Feds and are doing everything they can to destroy America and continue Obama's intentions.

President Trump appears to be mindful of the effect of these burdensome regulations on so many industries and is working on reversing them. It will take time, but these regulations will eventually be gone.
