General Comment

I wish to submit to the record the following three NIOSH documents on effective dust controls. Each document describes feasible means to control respirable quartz. Each of the files is too large to submit through this portal, so I am providing the URLs.

NIOSH (2019). Dust control handbook for industrial minerals mining and processing.

NIOSH (2010). Best practices for dust control in coal mining.

NIOSH (2010). Best practices for dust control in metal/nonmetal mining.
